CREATIVE AUDIO
 In genie is prone to making innocent mistakes. You see, he's a little inexperienced when it comes to granting wishes. The man who stole this genies lamp felt guilty, so he wished for innocence. When the pleasant smelling incense appeared, a wide frown spread across his wrinkled face. This gave him an idea. He wished to be young again, with no wrinkles on his face. That's when he became this no face baby. The genie watched him blindly crawling to and fro, and knew exactly what it meant when he started playing with a tire. His final wish was granted with a rocking cradle and these gull bells for lulling him to sleep, as he was obviously tired.
